3.2 Do you anticipate any significant changes to your financial situation over the next 12 months that might impact your decision to make this investment?

No Yes – please provide further details

Section 4 – Your tolerance to taking investment risk

Over a period of time, the value of an investment can rise and fall – this is known as volatility. Generally, the higher the investment risk, the higher the potential volatility.

This investment will be made into discretionary managed portfolio of shares in one or more unlisted companies and as such is considered a high risk investment.

Your tolerance to risk will depend on your financial circumstances and goals.

4.1 This investment is typically held by investors over the longer term. Do you have sufficient other assets and/or income, so that you can afford for these investments to be tied up for more than 5 years:

Strongly agree Agree Neutral Disagree Strongly disagree

4.2 This investment is considered to be high risk, therefore would not typically appeal to cautious investors. Would you describe yourself as an investor comfortable in taking high amount of risk?

Strongly agree Agree Neutral Disagree Strongly disagree

4.3 This service will invest in the shares of companies that are not listed on the main London Stock Exchange and as such investors should be prepared that they might fall or rise in value more sharply despite the objective of the investment to deliver sustainable growth. For this investment to meet your long-term objectives, would you be willing to accept the risk of significant short-term falls in value?

Strongly agree Agree Neutral Disagree Strongly disagree

4.4 Are you happy to accept a high level of risk to your capital in relation to this investment, in the knowledge that this investment aims to qualify for Business Property Relief from inheritance tax?

Strongly agree Agree Neutral Disagree Strongly disagree
